OBSERVATIONSPhilosophy

I've a motto just for this:
"Lie a little bit."
If I'll help you heart a while,
Lie a little bit.
Don't look shocked and say I'm wrong
Thru to sing to hold a song:
It may help lift the load along.
If you use your honest wit
And know when to lie a bit.
Say the world's a jolly skit—
Lie a little bit.
Say you've got the best of it:
Lie a little bit.
Say to worry, "not at home!"
Send old Long-face forth to roam—
Make your laughter light as foam.
Even when you're trouble-bitten,
Truth won't help the hurt of it—
Better lie a little bit.
Give your friends the benefit—
Lie a little bit.
Praise them, plan their black and grit:
Lie a little bit.
Let them feel their faults are few,
Tell them they're a jolly crew—
Do them good to think it's true!
Some day you'll be glad to see
The first you lied a bit.
—Maudie E. S. Hyman.

ROAD QUESTION.—The good road question is one which it appears will be with us always, and that is as it should be, for the more it is kept before the public mind the quicker will come the solution of the problem. For years every county in the state has had to deal with the question of keeping its public roads in condition for public travel. The result of these efforts has been far from satisfactory. In some counties, it is true where the money appropriations have been large or where the system of road working has been effective, the roads are kept in a fairly good condition. On the whole however it has been clearly demonstrated that the resources of the various counties are inadequate to meet the requirements. It becomes necessary then that we must have aid either from the state or from the national government in order to keep in condition our county roads and to build additional ones which the growth and progress of the county demands. At the next November election the people of Kentucky are to vote on the question of a constitutional amendment which will permit the state to make appropriations to aid road improvement. In order to get a share of any national appropriation for roads it will be necessary for the state to be in a position to co-operate with the national government and it is understood that the government will extend aid only to those states which have made appropriations. It should be gratifying to the mass of the people who live in the rural districts of the country to learn that much attention is being given the matter of good roads by our national congress. In the opinion of well posted authorities the time has arrived when this road question will be given the attention from our national lawmakers which it deserves. Millions upon millions of dollars are appropriated annually for the improvement of our waterways, but the county roads over which 90 per cent of the internal commerce of the country is moved, are being given slight attention by our law makers. The time is coming however when this great question will come in for its share of attention and Kentucky should be prepared to get her share of any appropriation which is to be made.

GOING THE ROUND.—We notice that the Kentucky Commissioner of Agriculture's estimate of this year's Burley tobacco crop for Kentucky of five million pounds is still going the rounds of the state press. I give out as an official estimate and is official. Of course the newspapers of the country cannot expect to make allowances for the inaccuracies which creep into such reports. Any reasonable man could with a moments reflection understand how ridiculous the Commissioner's estimate of five million pounds appears. The crop of Burley for Kentucky last year is given at about 135 million pounds. Allowing for the heaviest kind of cutting down of the crop by reason of Night Rider's intimidation and for other causes it is not reasonable to count on such a wholesale reduction. We venture to say that we can pick two counties which will be but two out of a score of others in which conditions are similar, which will produce the Commissioners five million pounds. We stated last week that Washington county would produce this year a half of that amount, or 2,500,000. Since then we have had estimates from reliable tobacco men who place the crop of Washington county this year provided the season is favorable at 3,000,000 pounds.

PREVIOUS BLUNDERS.—This recalls a statement or report issued from the same Kentucky Agricultural Department in 1904, or under a previous administration. The Commissioner of Agriculture, Mr. Hubert Vree land, at that time issued a report on the tobacco crop of the State, giving the figures by counties. This was not an estimate, but purported to be reliable figures as gathered from the assessors books of the various counties. The crop of Washington county for the year 1903 was given at 129,150 pounds, or about what is grown in five good farms in the county almost any year. The true figures of the crop that year placed the yield at three million pounds. The News Leader at the time called attention to the blunder and received a "call-down" from the Commissioner who laid the responsibility on the figures as obtained from the county assessors. We don't know from what source Mr. Rankin gets his "estimates," but he should find a more reliable one or refrain from publishing such estimates. They are not only false, but are misleading and may do harm.

That $50,000

The Lincoln Farm Association will not spend a red cent of Uncle Sam's cash on the museum at the Lincoln farm, if the seat of that body is to be the only recourse to the pockets of the old man.

The general impression is to the effect that the sum of $50,000, was appropriated by Congress to aid in the building of a national museum at the Lincoln birth place to house the log cabin and other relics of the war president, but this is a mistake. A bill authorizing that amount for the above purpose did pass the Senate, but when it reached the House Committee on Library, it was buried in the rush of business in the closing days of the session and was not resurrected in time for that body to ratify the action of the upper House.

The intention of Congress was evidently good, but that fact is not going to pay any of the bills incurred in the building of the museum. Those who fathered the bill did all in their power to get it through both houses and they deserve credit for their untiring energy on behalf of the proposed appropriation, but Congress, which spent over a billion dollars of the people's money, didn't have time to devote to such a small matter as appropriating $50,000 toward the preservation of the birthplace of the nation's war president.

Recording an Objection

Mrs. Callie Yates, of color, who lives on Water street that portion which is familiarly known as "down on Grayson" objects to her daughter receiving the attentions of Mr. Losh Smith. She is very strenuous in her objections, or, at least, has strenuous methods of recording them, having taken a few shots with a pistol at Mr. Smith last Sunday evening, as a mark of her displeasure. We are not advised of the nature of Mrs. Yates' objections, but they seem to be very positive. It may be because of the youthfulness of her daughter, or maybe for other reasons she objects to her offspring's beau. However that may be, should the manner of Mrs. Yates in objecting to her daughter's beau, become general with mothers having marriageable daughters, or those of sparking age, it will make beaux very hard to catch.

The charge of shooting without warning was registered on the record book of the sweating box, an institution the expenses of which Mrs. Yates has more than kept out of the 15 cents-per-month class. On an examination before Judge Thompson, as she was held over to await the action of the grand jury.—Lebanon Leader.

Young Man is Drowned

Death invaded the party composed of young men from Cynahana, who were in this city last Wednesday and Thursday en route to Mammoth Cave. As told in the last issue of the Enterprise the young men were traveling through the country in two surreys and a large wagon, and carried with them a complete camping outfit. They camped on the Spalding place nearly opposite the Mueller, Wathen & Robert distillery while in Lebanon, and left Thursday afternoon to continue their journey. Saturday morning one of the party was drowned while in the party in Green river. The following dispatch was in the Courier-Journal Sunday day:

Cynthiana, Ky., June 6.—News was received here this afternoon announcing that Roy McElvaine, a member of a party of young men who left Monday for Mammoth Cave, was drowned while bathing in Green river. Particulars could not be learned. The young men were in charge of Prof. Lobbey, of the Smith's Classical school.

There were twenty-three young men in the party when they left Cynthiana.—Lebanon Enterprise.

Recovered His Diamond Ring

It would seem from reports that have been circulated since the day the Robinson circus exhibited in this city that the show had with it about the biggest bunch of thieves ever brought to Lebanon. No less than a half dozen people have spoken of being robbed upon the circus grounds, while there is no telling how many others met a similar fate and said nothing about it.

Gambling devices of every description were operated in the side show tent, and at none of them did the players have any chance whatever to win. One young man stated to an Enterprise representative that he won $18 on one of the machines through a misplay of the operator, but was refused the money upon the grounds that "it was not the way the game was played." He demanded the money, stating that it must be paid, or the matter would be reported to the authorities. The operator was obdurate, and the local man quietly left the tent. He had scarcely reached the outside before there were three men who wished to compromise the matter. The Lebanon man stated that $18 would settle his claim, and this was paid to him together with three circus tickets.

About the most important robbery reported was that of a diamond ring belonging to Mr. James Phillips, son of Mr. J. C. Phillips. Mr. Phillips placed his ring on the lavatory in a local barber shop while he washed his hands, and when he reached to replace it, it was missing. An investigation was started and it was ascertained that a man near the washstand at the time Mr. Phillips was using it was one of the men with the circus. An unsuccessful effort was made to recover the ring that evening, and the next day the authorities at Shelbyville, where the show was exhibiting, were notified of the theft. They, too, were unsuccessful. The matter was placed in the hands of Detective J. A. Thompson, who went to Louisville Friday, the day the show was in that city, and succeeded in recovering the ring which is valued at $100. None of the gambling devices operated while in Lebanon were operated the day the circus exhibited in Louisville.—Lebanon Enterprise.

Nature has provided the stomach with certain natural fluids known as the digestive juices, and it is through these juices that the food we eat is acted upon in such a way as to produce rich, red blood that flows through the veins of our body and thereby makes us strong, healthy and robust, and it is the weakness of these digestive juices that destroys health. It is our own fault if we do not try our own health, and yet it is so easy for any one to put the stomach out of order. When you need to take something to take it promptly, but take something you know is reliable—Something like Kodol For Dyspepsia and Indigestion. Kodol is pleasant to take, it is reliable and is guaranteed to give relief. It is sold by the Red Cross Drug Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bobbitt, formerly of this place but now of Bardonia, died at the home of her grandfather, Mr. Jeff Smith, near Maud on last Friday the 12th. The child had been sick for several weeks having been taken down while on a visit to the home of her grandfather and was unable to be taken home.
She was a sufferer from appendicitis. The funeral took place at Camp Ground on Sunday.

Have Caught On
The three Springfield boys who left here two weeks ago for the Southwest, appear to have caught on, as the following from
The Sun, published at Tucuman, N. Mexico, would indicate. It says:

"R. C. Roberts, H. L. Smith
and W. T. Robertson, all of Springfield, Kentucky, arrived in Tucuman last Saturday on the evening train and will probably spend the summer here.
Mr. Robertson has been employed by the Tucuman Baseball Association. He is said to be a crack pitcher and has already demonstrated some of his work.
Mr. Smith has been employed by the Sun Printing Company and is proving worthy of his splendid recommendation. Mr.
Roberts has secured a position with the News and will begin work next Monday morning."

A Lesson in Health.

Healthy kidneys filter the impurities from the blood, and unless they do this good health is impossible. Foley's Kidney Cure makes sound kidneys and will positively cure all forms of kidney and bladder disease.
It strengthens the whole system
sold by the Red Cross Pharmacy.

St. Catherine Commencement
The eighty-sixth annual commencement of St. Catherine's took place June 16th in the handsome new building recently completed. Quite a large audience assembled. The exercises were interesting from opening to close showing the excellent training and discipline of the Sisters of St. Catharines.

The musical part of the exercises was particularly enjoyable and the young ladies plainly showed the effects of fine musical training. A pleasing feature was the little drama entitled
"The Christians Under Trajan,"
in which six young ladies played the parts.

Now that the new building is completed the sisters have the prospects of having a much larger number of pupils at St.
Catherine's next session.

The Alumni Association convened after the commencement.
An elaborate banquet was served in courses. Mrs. M. W.
Hyatt, the clever toastmistress,
presided in a graceful manner,
presenting some beautiful toasts,
responded to by Miss Mae Tighe
—"Since Last We Met"—filled with sweet reminiscences; Miss Helen Jones—"The Future of St. Catherine's"—a decided hit;
The Broken Chain." Miss Elsie Darrett, in a response to "Our Alumnae," gave a bright and witty toast in her own sweet, vivacious style.

The meeting was certainly much enjoyed and Mother Magdalene and the other sisters with the hospitality for which they are so justly noted extended a hearty welcome to all the children of St. Catharines and long will the 1908 alumni meeting be pleasantly remembered. The following officers were elected:
Mrs. Oscar Walker, President,
Miss Elsie Dunnet, Secretary,
Mrs. Burtie, Vice President
Miss Mattie Robinson-Treas.
Miss Forgarty, Toastmistress.
